Pal-O-Mine Equestrian Receives $115,142 Grant from the Ike, Molly & Steven Elias Foundation of the Jewish Communal Fund to kick off the charity’s expansion campaign.

Islandia, NY....

Pal-O-Mine Equestrian, Inc. (www.pal-o-mine.org, Islandia, NY), a private, not for profit organization providing a comprehensive therapeutic equine program using horses to facilitate growth, learning and healing for children and adults with disabilities, is the recipient of a $115,142 grant from the Ike, Molly & Steven Elias Foundation of the Jewish Communal Fund. The funds will be applied for a state-of-the-art watering system for the horses. The organization has been a loyal supporter of Pal-O-Mine, with its principals previously donating to such program as its Adopt-A-Rider program, their annual golf outing and the overall building expansion.

“This very generous donation will fulfill a need at Pal-O-Mine vital to the well-being of our equine teachers,” said Pal-O-Mine CEO Lisa Gatti. “Through the support of the Ike, Molly & Steven Elias Foundation, we are able to install a new, state-of-the-art horse watering system.”

About Pal-O-Mine

Founded in 1995 by Lisa Gatti, Pal-O-Mine is a private, not for profit organization providing a comprehensive therapeutic equine program using horses to facilitate growth, learning and healing for children and adults with disabilities, as well as those who have been abused or neglected, veterans and the economically compromised. Pal-O-Mine offers a broad range of programs many of which involve the organization’s herd of therapy horses and livestock. Pal-O-Mine relies on grants and contributions from private citizens, foundations and businesses to help raise funds.
