The organization works with children and adults with disabilities, those who have been abused or neglected, military members and the economically disadvantaged.

“Our facilities are an integral part of our visitors’ healing process,” said Lisa Gatti, CEO and Founder. “We rely on community support from local businesses to enhance our mission. Thanks to Lumber Liquidators, our renovated facilities will better serve all those that come here to thrive.”

Lumber Liquidators’ support of Pal-O-Mine was administered through its philanthropic program, Lay It Forward, which supports organizations that benefit generations to come. This principle also inspires the lasting quality and sustainability of Lumber Liquidators’ products.
