Exclusion of Service Animals

When can service animals be excluded?

The ADA does not require covered entities to modify policies, practices, or procedures if it would "fundamentally alter" the nature of the goods, services, programs, or activities provided to the public. Nor does it overrule legitimate safety requirements. If admitting service animals would fundamentally alter the nature of a service program, service animals may be prohibited. Service animals can be restricted where the animals are the natural prey or natural predators, where the presence of a dog would be disruptive, causing the displayed animals to behave aggressively or become agitated.
